Olivier Dubreuil

French Master Chef

The Venetian Resort Las Vegas

Chef Dubreuil was born in Rochefort, a coastal town northwest of Bordeaux, France. His grandmother's garden was his market, and creating family meals from the quality and freshness found there became his tradition.

After graduating with honors in 1985 from the cooking school in Arcachon, France, he worked every season in a different region of the country to continue gaining invaluable training. Four short years later, Olivier's talents carried him across the globe, where he continued expanding his culinary expertise in Tunisia, Italy, French Polynesia, Mexico, the Caribbean, Switzerland, Ireland, and the United States. In 2005, chef Dubreuil was handpicked to lead a new team for The Venetian Resort.

Olivier's distinctive management style has earned him the reputation of being a compassionate, focused, and dedicated leader. The enthusiasm he demonstrates for his profession is infectious, and in March 2009, he became a member of the prestigious organization of Maîtres Cuisiniers de France. As a French Master Chef, he has been inducted into a society that promotes the French traditions of cuisine and furthers the interests of up-and-coming chefs worldwide.

NOVEMBER 2012

Chef Dubreuil was named Culinarian of the Year by the Nevada Restaurant Association.

MARCH 2019

Chef Dubreuil joined the Ment'or Foundation as a member of the Culinary Council. The Culinary Council is a network of prestigious industry leaders who provide their culinary expertise and knowledge to the foundation and its members.

JANUARY 2021

Chef Dubreuil was nominated for the Chair of the Académie Culinaire de France Delegation US and Canada.

MARCH 2022

Medal of Honor from the Association des Maîtres Cuisiniers de France. This medal—considered the highest recognition from the Maîtres Cuisiniers de France—is awarded to culinary professionals who demonstrate dedication to hospitality and the culinary industry.

Jerome Ducrocq

Executive Chef

The Venetian Resort

Jerome Ducrocq was born in Calais in the north of France at the border of Belgium as the third generation of his family-owned butcher shop. From the youngest age, chef Ducrocq's father taught him the value of the food industry. He grew up understanding the products and with respect for clients, guests, and the team. With equal importance, those lessons are ingrained in his DNA.

In 2000, chef Ducrocq spent time working at the Ritz-Carlton in the United States before perfecting his craft in Paris. He spent eight years alongside some of the best French chefs at Michelin two- and three-star restaurants Carré des Feuillants, the Four Seasons Hotel George V, and Le Pavillon Ledoyen on the famous Champs-Élysées.

He joined the Jean-Philippe Patisserie team in Las Vegas to grow the savory menu in 2010. Chef Ducrocq says the experience of working with the most talented pastry chefs showed him that there is no limit when it comes to creation. After six years, he brought his lifetime of experience to The Venetian Resort Banquet team, where he now heads the department.

Dinesh Singh

Executive Banquet Chef

The Venetian Resort

Chef Dinesh Singh comes from New Delhi, a bustling cultural capital and the largest city in India. The city offers a vibrant mix of cuisines from different regions of the country and exploring the unique dishes inspired his love of food. From kebabs to flavorful curry—he fell in love with it all. Singh's father enjoyed hosting friends and relatives in the evenings at their home, and chef Singh began to learn how to cook to help prepare these community dinners everyone looked forward to. He learned early in life that "food feeds the belly, thoughts feed the mind, but love is what feeds the heart."

His passion for food and cooking inspired him to pursue it as a career. He studied at the illustrious culinary training program at The Oberoi Hotel. Adaptive and talented at his craft, chef Singh was a significant contributor to award-winning restaurants in top destinations from the Maldives to Singapore. In 2010, he was part of the cooking team for the James Beard Foundation in New York.

Rising quickly through the ranks in the kitchen, chef Singh's ability to take on responsibility and mentor others was incredibly valuable. His time in Singapore was the catalyst for his transition to Las Vegas. Continuing to cook from the heart brought him to his current home at The Venetian Resort. He's come a long way from being a novice chef to becoming an Executive Banquet Chef at the largest resort in the city. He's proud of the huge volumes his team at The Venetian Resort can serve while maintaining high-quality cuisine guests can savor.

Simon Brégardis

Executive Pastry Chef

The Venetian Resort

Simon Brégardis was born and raised in Vendée in western France. He grew up splitting his time between there and Brittany, where his grandmother and most of his extended family lived. Vivid memories of his grandmother donning her apron and making buckwheat crêpes and buttery Gâteau Breton for the whole town planted the seeds for his love of pastry.

An apprenticeship in his hometown began his journey as he developed his craft at renowned bakeries across Paris, including Fauchon, Pierre Hermé, and L'Atelier de Joël Robuchon. After spending time at the acclaimed Citrus Étoile, then located on the historic Champs-Élysées, he made the leap to Las Vegas, where his talents were recognized with several promotions that earned him the position of Assistant Pastry Chef at Bellagio. The experience earned him a chance in Miami, where he continued to showcase his skills both in pastry and leadership.

Competing in the L'Art du Chocolatier Challenge in 2012 gave Brégardis the opportunity to flex his creativity, winning Chocolatier of the Year along with awards for Best Workmanship and Best Showpiece. While in Miami, he was honored with the Zest Award for Best Baking & Pastry Chef of the Year in 2017. Brégardis is proud to be part of the Academie Culinaire De France, a worldwide association of chefs that represents and shares the values of French culture and cuisine around the globe. He enjoys his current position as Executive Pastry Chef at The Venetian Resort and mentoring his team to deliver award-winning experiences for meetings and events.
